SKODA SWISS BIKE CUP BASEL (SUI) 2025

The race in Basel was originally not on my plan. I decided at short notice to use the HC race of the Skoda Swiss Bike Cup for a status check before the next World Cup and the World Championships. The Cup is very suitable for this, as the best Swiss riders are at the start. This time too, Fiona SCHIBLER, Monique HALTER, Elena BENOÎT, and the Frenchwoman Line BURQUIER were all there, having already stood on World Cup podiums or won. The race takes place in the middle of Basel. You start on a horse racing track and then go over a long asphalt flat section to a short climb. It doesn't take 2 minutes to get up, then it goes down with a few berms back to the flat and back to the race track. After the start, Fiona took the lead and kept leading us over the flat section. Some attacks were made, but none were really serious. On the hill, Monique tested us, only I could keep up.

A good sign! But it was still too early to make it with just the two of us. The six of us, including Finja LIPP (GER), rode together into the last lap. We increased the pace again. Monique and I broke away on the hill and rode back to the race track together. In the countless curves, we were able to overtake an elite woman who had started before us, which was a bit risky, but we didn't want the others to catch up with us again. We took turns leading, and on the horse racing track, I gave it my all again and was able to pull away from Monique in the curve before the home straight and won with a small lead.
